L. S. BURCHARD, BUSINESS MANAGER

RENO, WASHOE COUNTY, NEVADA

WEDNESDAY, JULY 24, 1878

BUSINESS MANAGER.

Mr. L. S. Burchard will, from and after this date, be sole business manager for the DAILY and WEEKLY GAZETTE. He will collect all bills due for subscription, advertising and job work, and settle all accounts with this office. Parties indebted to the office are urged to make prompt settlement.

RENO, JULY 22, 1878.

CLASS ABUSE.

The trouble in Italy seems to be communitistic in its tone and leadership. The dissatisfied are appealing to arms for what they want, not knowing that such a course will probably take away that which they have. There is a rare book to be written some day upon this great communitistic wave which seems to have touched all shores and been seen of all nations. It has made the study of social science the means of preventing great disasters and has proven that great tendencies among men are not limited except by the globe itself. The tidal wave, even when far spent upon a distant shore, shows that a great convulsion gave it life. We say, too, that an unmistakable desire to change and destroy, when manifested among men, took its rise at the point of misuse or misunderstanding of man's relation to man. It may have been centuries since the mistake was made, but the wave will traverse the world and there will be no rest until the point of origin has again been visited and each contending force realized.

There is an unmistakable communitistic feeling traversing this world of ours, and it bodes change and removal for many an institution of the past. The men who can locate the point of origin will help us best in smoothing the troubled waters and restoring stability to the social future. There is no greater fallacy than to imagine that great classes of men defy the laws which have protected them without adequate cause. They may choose unfortunate methods, but the cause which impels them is invariably founded on justice. Here is a problem for an American statesman: Tell us what there may be which is making law and order insecure. Tell us whether the wrong is financial, commercial, or international in its character. Tell us how and when the seeds of discontent were sown, that we may root them out. Study the science of relation between classes, that we may correct the wrongs and build our government edifice stronger with the years. There are men who sneer at "the experiment of the Union." An intelligent correction of class abuse will make of the Union a glorious experiment which shall give needed advice to other nations, and command a world's admiration.

THE WEEKLY GAZETTE.

The WEEKLY GAZETTE, which has now been in existence for more than a year, has met with a degree of success which more than met the expectations of the publisher. Desiring, however, to bring the WEEKLY GAZETTE within the means of all, the subscription price will from this date be only $2.50 per annum, instead of $4 as heretofore. The reduction in price will involve no deterioration on the paper. On the contrary, the weekly will be made more valuable, if possible. It is the intention to add new features to the WEEKLY GAZETTE. It now has no superior of its kind in this State, and certainly at the price at which it is offered the WEEKLY GAZETTE ought to be the most popular journal in Nevada.

ANNEXATION IN ITALY.

All Italy is excited just now over the proposition to annex Trieste and Trento. Large and enthusiastic meetings have favored the proposition, and the movement is becoming a matter of direct moment to the government and the people. At meetings held July 22d the most intense excitement prevailed. A band of musicians on the piazza was obliged to play Garibaldi's hymn several times in answer to the demands of the crowd. The demonstration was finally ended by a band of young men parading the streets singing patriotic songs and shouting "Abasso corti" and "Viva la Guerra." The moderate Liberals attribute the demonstration to Ultramontane influence.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Kearney, the chief of all the workmen, was honored and flattered at every town on the railroad line. They received him without regard to party ties, and he gave them labored advice in exchange for their blarney. At Winnemucca Dennis was asked how he liked the Silver bill. He replied that it must be a good bill because the "thaves" opposed it. Kearney wanted, however, to see Nevada send a workman back in place of Jones. Said Dennis: "You'll own him, then, and not him you." He promised to read the riot act on his return.

The hostiles are now in the last ditch; that is, they are now ready to accept blankets and gold-lace from the government. They want to be fixed up in comfortable shape by the Great Father, and they will rest from their labors for awhile. The Great Father realizes that "all work and no play makes Lo a dull boy," so the supplies will be forthcoming. The Nez Percés are now ready to take the war-path again. Wonderful policy, this.

Now that the Bannocks are about ready to be forgiven and prepetiated, there is much anxiety to learn just what presents may prove most acceptable to their scalpships. A contemporary, with rare powers of observation, suggests that a boat load of watermelons would sweeten the Bannock disposition. The true inwardness of such a proposal is found in the fact that Ayer's agree cure is to receive government support.

The San Francisco Chronicle has a correspondent with General Howard and the Chronicle says he is "brave as a lion," and fights so much that he has hardly time to write. It must be a very young journalist. When he loses a leg and drags himself back to San Francisco it will perhaps surprise him to find that the enterprising proprietors of the Chronicle will allow him to die in the charity ward of the county hospital.

It is improving to observe the high moral ground some Nevada newspapers take against duelling in commenting upon the Hunton-Alexander difficulty. We are glad to notice this. When you have a quarrel with a man it is always better to lie down behind a dry goods box and bang it to him in the back when he comes unsuspectingly along, than to resort to the barbarous duello, which very absurdly gives the other fellow an even chance.

There is one thing Kearney ought to attend to when he is East—finding the other "n" for his Denis. A weak spell like that will do well enough for a frog-eating Frenchman, but a workman ought to be able to speak all the n's that belong to him. Don't ye be ashamed av yer name, Dennis. Divil a dacent Irishman yet iver yet wint wanderin' about wid wan n to his Dennis.

Kearney, the California communist, is coming East. He will come in a Pullman palace car. He will board in first class hotels. He will drink champagne. His dress will be purple and fine linen—except when he goes out to address his dupes. He will wax fat, and the poor fellows whom he has duped into sending him will have to starve themselves and stint their families to pay his bills.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

D. R. Sessions is a candidate for Superintendent of Public Instruction, and the Silver State is for him. That paper recalls the fact that Mr. S. opposed one of the leading candidates on the Democratic State ticket at the election four years ago. Hence it is argued that Mr. Sessions has no claims upon the party. This is not encouraging to Mr. Sessions.

The Tybo Sun has been kind enough to recommend Sutro for Governor. If Adolph, the indomitable, can run a tunnel under the political lode and carry off the foul air and hot water which is so abundant on the lower levels, we shall vote for Adolphus. They say he can, so set over there, you fellows, and make room for 'Dolph. Next?

The Grass Valley Union publishes a Washington letter, signed "Nemo." The character of the epistle makes the signature peculiarly appropriate. A letter in which there is nothing, and which is signed "no one," is of necessity very light reading.

Deacon Parkinson is a bonanza of pure horn cheek. The old gentleman has the audacity to abuse Henry Ward Beecher for his Elizabethian morals. And this from the Deacon! Ha, ha!

It is said that Cassidy, of the Eureka Sentinel, blushes whenever he sees a bar of bullion, and in his embarrassment tries to get on both sides of it at once.

The Boston Belting Company has been forced to suspend, its liabilities amounting to $839,000, and its assets $80,000. This result was brought about by the dishonest action of the Treasurer, John G. Tappan, who is found to have issued, for a private speculation, the notes of the company for $628,000.

Notings.

—Earl's barley mill is again heard in the land.

—There will be an ice-cream social at the Baptist church this evening.

—Tom Morgan or the "Blacksmith's Dream" is rusticiating on Truckee Meadows.

—The Seventh Day Adventists affirm that there is hope for everybody save the delinquent subscriber.

—George O. Ford, editor of the Truckee Republican, favored the GAZETTE office with a call yesterday afternoon.

—The WEEKLY GAZETTE will be sold for the nominal sum of $2 50 per year after August 1st. Those indebted on the old list should settle immediately.

—J. V. Lewis, Deputy Sheriff at Wadsworth, is in town. He has entirely recovered from the measles, and his beauty is unimpaired.

—The attention of Road Supervisor Beemer is called to the disgracefully rocky condition of the road between Kenney's lumber yard and Winfrey's ranch.

—We notice by the Journal that they sell "unborn" calves in the markets of Virginia. They probably have to sell a cow with each one. If not, why not?

—Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Roades, of Woodland, California, parents of Mrs. Allen C. Bragg, of Reno, arrived this morning and will spend a few days with their daughter.

—The Saddle Rock restaurant was sold at Constable's sale to-day. It brought only $300. A. M. Merrill recently from the East was the buyer. He will re-open the place.

—The roads in Glendale district are allowed to be flooded with water, and heavily loaded teams get mired in consequence. Road Supervisor Stevens should look to the matter.

—"Good as gold," so says A. H. Barnes of Brimmer's Infallible Insect Powder. Mr. B. has just received a fresh invoice of this valuable vermin destroyer from the East. See 50-cent advertisement.

—L. S. Burchard, business manager of the GAZETTE, will soon take a business trip through the northern country. The GAZETTE has many subscribers in that region already, but there is no objection to an increase.

—The summer styles among the Piute squaws about town are exciting not a little admiration. The aboriginal lady who doesn't sport a large bright orange apron and a bandana handkerchief on her head doesn't belong to the best society.

THE TRAMP.

Some Interesting Particulars Regarding the Profession.

Consider the tramp. Behold, he toils not, neither does he spin; yet Solomon in all his glory would have hanged a man arrayed like one of these that we see in Reno every day. Ragged, run down at the heel, filthy, unshaven, uncombed, sneaking or impudent in manner, hungry, lazy, drunken, and only happy when lined with whiskey and a square meal. A beggar, a thief, a liar, and only kept from serious crime by fear of consequences. Such is the average tramp. And, by the way, tramp is a misnomer. Although constantly traveling from one part of the country to another, and covering immense distances in his wanderings, few men who are not cripples walk as little as your thoroughbred tramp. He rides. How, shall be explained presently. All those who visit Reno, hungry, penniless and afoot, are not, however, worthless vagabonds like the vicious rascals described. There are many honest men looking for honest work trudging painfully along the roads and undergoing not only physical hardships because of the misdeeds of the thoroughbreds, but suffering keenly at being classed with the scoundrels, and receiving the contempt of every stranger in consequence of the misjudgment. Many a decent fellow has been converted into a genuine tramp through being constantly taken for one and treated accordingly. This would break any man's spirit in time and set him against the world. This occurs the more readily, for it is from his own class—the poor—that the honest tramp receives the worst treatment. Ask any tramp for confirmation of this. At the gentleman's house the tramp, honest or otherwise, is given food and treated with nothing harder than contemptuous indifference. At the shanty of the man who is just that shanty and employment better off than he, he generally expects and gets revilings and insults, a dog bite perhaps, but nothing to eat.

WHAT A TRAMP IS.

To enjoy the life of a tramp, or even to lead it successfully whether enjoying it or not, a man must, to begin with, shed all pride and self-respect. Nothing, from a curse to a kick, must even ruffle his feelings. His whole mind must be devoted to just two things—getting food for nothing and stealing rides on railroad trains. It is extraordinary how expert the tramp becomes in these prime branches of his trade—for a trade it is, and not a simple one either. Nearly everyone knows from experience the tramp's whining persistence in his battle for food, but the riding part of the profession is a puzzling mystery to people who buy tickets when they ride on the cars. The tramp's plan is to get on every train that is going his way and stay there until he is put off, by force or otherwise. A few bold spirits have a fondness for the rapid passenger trains. The first car is always either the express or postal carriage, which has neither door nor window opening upon the front platform. At important stations the brakeman rides on this platform until the train is under good headway and then jumps off, and with a dexterity only known to brakemen and tramps, swings himself upon the train again. But at little wayside depots this precaution is neglected and the daring tramp, rushing from behind the water tank, or from under a coal platform, and at the risk of his neck, jumps the train. If he can do this without being seen he is whizzed along until the next large station is reached, and even if perceived in getting on, is pretty sure of a ride until the next stopping place, for the conductor can't get at him without stopping his train. But is the tramp's main reliance, and he stands a better chance of getting a ride thus than in any other way. When the long and heavy freight train pulls out, the tramp, under cover of the darkness, springs between two of the cars and seats himself upon one "bumper" while he rests his feet upon the other. This to the inexperienced eye appears to be a dreadfully dangerous seat, as a bumper is merely a block of wood about a foot long by six inches broad. The tramp, however, feels perfectly secure. When the train is going at full speed, the tramp, wearied of his cramped position, climbs to the top of the box car and stretches himself out comfortably thereon. The brakeman approaches with his lantern, touches the tramp up with his toe and perhaps inquires: "What are you doing here?" "Ridin'," says the tramp, severely. "You ain't got no business here, young fellow," bullies the brakeman.

"You ain't any need to tell me that," grins the tramp.

The brakeman looks down severely upon the enemy as if deliberating whether or not to stop the train. Then he says suddenly: "Got any money?"

"I wouldn't be ridin' this way if I had, young fellow," laughs the tramp. If a green hand, however, he will give the brakeman a dollar if he has it, or a pistol or anything of value that he may have about him and the brakeman, enjoining him to keep out of the conductor's sight, will let him ride till morning. Every time the train stops and the conductor's lantern is seen, the tramp gets off in a hurry and hides in a ditch, or behind a tree or rock and then jumps on again when the start is made. It isn't often that railroad men will make a tramp get off a night freight train, but at sunrise the "grand bounce" is given and the tramp reposes himself again until nightfall and then gets his ride again. He manages thus to average about

FIFTY MILES A DAY.

When a tramp decides to ride by daylight only the "brakebeam" is left him. The brakebeam, as the name indicates, is the loose wooden beam which runs across from brake to brake. At its widest part it is not more than six inches. It hangs not more than half a foot from the ground, yet on this narrow strip of wood the seasoned tramp will lie and smoke his pipe while the train is thundering along at twenty or thirty miles an hour. It is very dangerous and the tramp frequently loses his life by the breaking of one of the slender rods upon which the beam hangs. The thoroughbred has a lingo. With him food is "chuck," whisky "budge" and a sleep "doss." To get chuck, budge and doss keeps him largely busy. Give him wood to split when he calls.

Becker's Dissipated Cat.

J. G. Becker, the beer man, (for whom the GAZETTE staff have the highest respect these hot, hard times) talks of suing this journal for damages. An account was given last evening of his young black cat, which, after a long course of reckless drinking of beer drippings, had been seized with the delirium tremens. The item was read aloud in the saloon in the presence of the dissolute cat, which walked gravely over to the trough, hoisted in a skinful of beer, trotted out the back door and hasn't been seen since. Mr. Becker is wrong to blame the GAZETTE for this sudden disappearance. The immoral beast will return. It has merely gone off to sober up.

Kimble's Ore Crusher.

S. W. Kimble to-day started up his ore grinder in connection with his amalgamator. The grinder is a cylinder divided into six compartments, open at both ends, and standing upright. It is two feet high and has a diameter of three feet, and is given 40 revolutions per minute. The ore is received from the battery through a chute, and is thrown into the cylinder together with a small stream of water. The lower end of the cylinder fits rather loosely into a steel cup, where the grinding is done. The results of the use of this simple machine will be looked for with interest.

BUSINESS.—If any man desires to run for office this fall the eminently just and proper thing for him to do is in the way of a public announcement. If you do not fear the public, let them know it. If you do not care to have your record discussed, maintain your privacy because you do not deserve office. This "cold turkey" business, dropping in at the last minute, won't do this year. It won't work, either, to debate until the last minute what office you want. One man can't have all and you might as well choose now as any other time. Announcements cost five dollars and they are payable in advance. Old clothes, silver and greenbacks taken at market value.

THE IRREPRESSIBLE CONFLICT.—Last night about 9 o'clock a large African who was flushed with beer went into the Chinese wash-house next the Central hotel, on Plaza street. What sweet words he whispered to the heathen may never be known, but in a few seconds he came out of the wash-house and landed on his head. Arming himself with a board the colored party charged into the laundry, whooping like a Bannock. He came out again, bleached, and tore madly off into the darkness, for the heathen held a navy revolver and banged away with the same. For an hour there was one white man more in Reno.

A GOOD MAN GONE.—Deacon Parkinson, whose venerability (muz comica) is only equaled by his piety, gave the blessing of his presence to Reno last night. The good man wrapped his mantle about him and shot out again for Carson as the god of day respectfully rose above the eastern hills.

SANTA FE DISTRICT.

An Old Mining Camp Looking Up Once More.

Not a few of the solid men of Reno are becoming interested in the mines of Santa Fe district, Esmeralda county. J. E. Thompson, of Virginia City, the mining expert, has just returned from a visit to the region whither he had been sent by the Consolidated Sunrise company to examine their property. A GAZETTE reporter to-day met a gentleman who had accompanied Mr. Thompson, and from him the following information was obtained:

The district lies in the northwestern corner of Esmeralda county, nearly on the boundary of Nye. Some ten or twelve years ago considerable work was done, but as the ores are mostly base, the camp was abandoned. The Sunrise company, three of the incorporators of which are Renoites, own the Sunrise, Jennie, London and Badger ledges, of 1500 feet each. Work was commenced in November last. At the depth of only twenty feet ore was struck. Cross-cuts were then run northeast and southwest, and in two months over 300 tons of good rock were taken out. The face of each cross-cut still remains in ore. The shaft has been sunk to a depth of 50 feet, running through ore all the way down. A second shaft on the eastern boundary of the claim has been sunk 42 feet in ore. Work was discontinued on the shafts and a tunnel run from a ravine in order to penetrate the ledge at a greater depth at less expense. The tunnel cuts the vein 150 feet below the surface. The tunnel is now in 277 feet. Two hundred feet from the mouth a northeast cross-cut was run, and when in 54 feet the vein was struck. The ledge at this point is 12 feet wide. The ore is of medium grade. The ledge matter is coming in in the northeast corner of the face of the tunnel. It is expected that an additional fifteen feet will bring the tunnel into the same ore body as was struck in the shafts. There are now about 30 tons of ore on the dumps. Yesterday assays were made of rock and dirt taken up at various parts of the dump and they ran all the way from $20 30 to $203, making an average of the dumps of $118. A few weeks ago twenty tons of ore were worked at the Auburn mill here and produced over $100 per ton. The character of the formation is identical with that of Eureka district. The facilities for wood and water are ample for years to come, wood costing but four dollars per cord laid down at the mine. There is a good wagon road all the way to Virginia, a distance of 128 miles.

OTHER MINES.

There are now about forty mines opened in the district and some very rich strikes have been made. The American Eagle a few weeks ago took out some rock that ran up to the enormous figure of $25,000 to the ton. There wasn't much of that sort of stuff, however. The range of mountains on which these mines are located contains over to Lone and Lodi. It is at lone on this range that the Downey is situated. Another Renoite who has a good thing is L. P. Walker, who has purchased the old Gladden mine, from the pockets found in which such rich ore was taken some years ago. Mr. Walker is running a tunnel under the old workings. The tunnel is now in 137 feet and in very promising ground. Eight miles south of Sunrise is the little town of New Boston, founded by the Wasson Consolidated company. This company owns fifteen mines, all of which are said to be doing well. At Sunrise about ninety men are employed and at New Boston about 150. The principal members of the Washoe company are H. A. Rhodes and D. Wasson, the well-known merchant of Belleville. They have a 15-stamp mill in operation. J. R. Murphy ("White Pine" Murphy) is also an owner and superintends the mines and mill. The same parties own a salt marsh near by, from which the salt used in milling is drawn. New Boston is twenty miles from Belleville and eighteen miles from Columbus.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

—We publish to-day the announcement of John S. Bowker as a candidate for County Clerk before the Republican Convention. Mr. Bowker is a pioneer and was one of the attendants about Washoe's cradle, and is therefore well known to our citizens.

John S. Bowman also announces himself as a candidate for whatever legal business you may have.

A HAPPY TOWN.—Reno may not be as large as San Francisco, nor so wealthy as Virginia, nor so dirty as Gold Hill; but one thing she can blow about, and that is that she has no organ grinders. In this connection it may be said that immigration is not desired. We have a soft thing, and want to keep it all to ourselves.

MUSIC, TARGET PRACTICE, TEN-PINS, REFRESHMENTS.

L. Wintemantel has made still further improvements in the appointments of his summer gardens and shooting galleries. A fine Ballard rifle is now at the disposal of visitors, and the ten-pin alleys are now in the best of trim. Targets at long or short range, and polite attendants to wait upon visitors. A shady resort for the weary and heavy laden, also for the thirsty who desire quenching. Pay him a visit, and the best of wines liquors and cigars will be served to you at all times. 5-6 tf

SELLING OUT, JELLING OUT.—Weil Brothers, of the Branch Suit and Cloak House on east side Virginia street, would inform the ladies and their patrons generally that they will close out their large stock of Ladies Embroidery and underwear, etc., by August 1st. The remainder of their stock will be sacrificed in order to close it out by the date mentioned. The ladies should call and secure bargains as early as possible. WEIL BROTHERS.

FELLOWS'

Compound Syrup!

—OF—

HYPOPHOSPHITES.

THIS DISCOVERY

Is the result of a series of Scientific Experiments based upon the theory that for the successful cure of Wasting Diseases, the nervous system must be made vigorous and healthy.

One of the first symptoms of disease affecting either the Liver, Lungs, Heart, Stomach, or Genital Organs, is a loss of nervous power. This is followed by muscular relaxation, weakness, and emaciation of all the organs which depend upon them for health or involuntary muscular action, the weaker suffering first.

The inventor, acting upon this idea, that the muscles and nerves depend upon each other for efficient strength and action, and that they must be treated directly in order to speedily and permanently cure diseases of the organs which they control, became convinced, after months of experiment, that no other preparation produced such potent and direct effects upon the nervous system as his

and except in cases of actual organic loss, that it would restore patients suffering from those maladies.

Amongst the diseases overcome by the use of this remedy are the following:—

Chronic Constipation,
Chronic Dyspepsia,
Asthma,
Chronic Bronchitis,
Consumption,
Chronic Diarrhea,
Chronic Laryngitis,
Melancholy,
Nervous Debility.

Debility, resulting from Typhoid and other low fevers, Diphtheritic Prostration, Hysteria, Neurasthenia, Nervous Exhaustion, Marasmus or Wasting of the Muscles, Aphonia or Loss of Voice, Sluggishness of the Liver, Interrupted and Feeble Action of the Heart, Strabismic Palsy, caused by mucous obstruction of the Lungs and Air Passages leading thereto, and Debility from various causes. Indigestion and habitual Constipation almost always arise from weakness of the muscles and nerves of the stomach and bowels. In such cases, Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites has proved itself of the greatest service by inducing healthy peristaltic action of the intestines. The evacuations soon become copious and healthy, without producing the effect of purgative medicine.

Weakness of the joints and Muscles, Interference with Sleep, and Nervous Exhaustion may be cured by attention to the regular described doses, and by due regard to the habits of life.

FELLOWS'

Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites

The power of arresting diseases displayed by this preparation is honorably acknowledged by the medical faculty in every section where it has been introduced, and the large sale is the best guarantee of the estimation in which it is held by the public.

This syrup will cure PULMONARY CONSUMPTION in its first and second stages, will give great relief and prolong life in the third. It will cure ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, LARYNGITIS and CHRONIC COUGHS, and all other diseases arising from want of Muscular Action and NERVOUS FORCE.

Sold by all Druggists.

Price $1.50 per bottle or six bottles for $7.50.

CONSUMPTION

Positively Cured.

All sufferers from this disease that are anxious to be cured should try Dr. KISSNER'S Celebrated Consumptive Powder. These Powders are the only preparation known that will cure CONSUMPTION and all diseases of the Throat and Lungs—indeed, so strong is our faith in them, and also to convince you that they are no humbug, we will forward to every sufferer, by mail, post paid, a free Trial Box.

We don't want your money until you are perfectly satisfied of their curative powers. I your life is worth saving, don't delay in giving these Powders a trial, as they will surely cure you.
